PRICE THREE CENTS

LOCAL COUPLE IS ACQUITTED ON BEER CHARGE

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wise, 129 Breckenridge street, were found not guilty of selling beer without a license by an Adams county jury this afternoon at 2:25 o'clock after 35 minutes deliberation.

The jury directed that the costs be divided between the prosecutor and the defendant. The court refused to let that decision stand pointing out the prosecution had been brought by an officer in performance of his duty and that he should not have to bear any costs. The county will pay half the costs and the defendants the other half.

The case was the first to be brought in the November term of court.

Before the trial got underway this morning a plea of guilty was entered in open court by George Howe, Hanover, on a charge of drunken driving, which also had been scheduled for trial at the present term of court.

Agents Testify

Bail posted by Matthew Burke, Philadelphia, on two charges of cheating by false pretense was ordered forfeited when Burke failed to appear for court and a process was issued for his arrest.

The testimony of witnesses that they had seen no money change hands in connection with the serving of six bottles of beer to two enforcement officers and a "friend" was heard in the Wise case as was the testimony of the two defendants and two enforcement agents.

According to the agents, Officer Joseph M. Colver and Officer Campbell, the two state liquor law enforcement agents on receiving complaints that the Wises were selling beer and liquor, came here September 7 to investigate. The officers said they passed themselves off as truck drivers to a man known as "Bunky" and he took them to the Wise residence. There the officers said, they were served a bottle of beer each and Officer Colver claimed he paid 75 cents for the first three bottles. They reentered, Colver said, and Campbell paid the second time.

Contradict Officers

Mr. and Mrs. Wise both denied having received any payment for the beer. Henry Tonsel, Mrs. Evelyn Williams, and Lawrence Monroe, all of Gettysburg, who said they were present at the Wise home on September 7 said they had never seen any money change hands or heard anyone ask for payment.

The jury in the case includes Miss Dorothy R. Baugher, New Oxford; R. E. Bowers, York Springs; Charles Chronister, East Berlin; Ray Punt, Biglerville R. D.; Mrs. Jennie E. Gardner, Gardners; Denton Hoff, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Mary Peters, Gardners; David Riley, Gettysburg R. 2; Mrs. Lottie H. Slaybaugh, Biglerville; Mrs. Isabel Spahr, Biglerville R. 1; John M. Spangler, Littlestown and E. G. Whited, Gettysburg R. 4.

Littlestown C. O. MECKLEY IS THIRD DISTRICT RALLY SPEAKER

The fall rally of the Third district Sunday School association of Adams County was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Lelphart chapel at Hoffman orphanage. The opening song service was conducted by Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown. The opening hymn was "Come Thou Almighty King." The scripture was read and prayer was offered by Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. A quartette, composed of Delmont Koons, Edgar Fink, Harry Mohny, and Elmer Schildt, sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Doris Koons. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as a special number by the choir from the Hoffman Orphanage. They were accompanied by the organist, Miss Hazel Hess, who also played the offertory.

Claude O. Meckley, Hanover, delivered the message. His theme was "Kindness." The offering was in charge of the Rev. Arthur Leeming, superintendent of Hoffman orphanage. The business was in charge of Elmer C. Schildt, president of the association.

The attendance banner was awarded to Bart's U. B. Sunday school, and accepted by the superintendent, William Kariuch, in behalf of his school. The awarding of the banner was judged on a percentage basis.

FIREMEN TO MEET

A meeting of the Gettysburg fire company will be held at the fire engine house Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which time nomination of officers for the coming year will be made.

Bendersville Man Loses Damage Case

In a verdict read in York county court at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening, plaintiffs in a damage action against A. G. Hertzog, Bendersville, won an award of $325.

The suit was brought by George A. Foust, Carlton K. Rosenfield, Jr., and Oliver L. Rosenfield, all of York, who had asked damages totaling $1,863. Judge Ray Sherwood presided at the trial which went to the jury at 3:45 p.m. Monday.

A two and one-half ton motor truck owned by the three plaintiffs and operated by Oliver L. Rosenfield, and the defendant's automobile nearly collided on the Pleasantville road, at the Robertson farm, April 19, 1946. The truck loaded with stone, upset when it swerved to avoid striking the Hertzog car, it is claimed. The truck was put out of commission and the driver injured. The accident was caused, the plaintiffs claimed, when Hertzog failed to observe stop sign regulations.

E. W. THOMAS IS LIONS' SPEAKER AT LADIES' NIGHT

The purposes of and the functions of the Pennsylvania State Bankers' Association and its 17 permanent committees were described for members of the Gettysburg Lions club and their ladies at a dinner meeting Monday evening at the Hoffman orphanage by Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank of Gettysburg and president of the state bankers' association.

"The state association was formed for the purpose of improving banking services and methods and to keep banking ethics on the highest possible plane," Mr. Thomas said in introducing a summary of the organization's functions by mentioning its standing committees and their duties.

He said the state committee on legislation was responsible for the recent passage of the Consumer Credit bill and made the prediction that as the result of the work of another state banking committee all banks will soon have in force some type of pension plan. He gave special attention to the agriculture development committee's work and told of growth of a better understanding of the services offered by a bank in relation to agriculture.

Explains GI Loans

In the days following the bank crisis in 1933 when the American banking system was under attack from many quarters, many laws affecting banks were passed that "never should have gone on the books," Mr. Thomas asserted as he told of the confusion resulting from regulations, directives and orders that sometimes went beyond the intent of the law. In defense of banks, Mr. Thomas said that by the end of 1933 bank losses totaled only 1 1/2 per cent of the total deposits in closed banks.

Mr. Thomas concluded with an explanation of the loan features of the GI bill of rights and gave present interpretations of provisions of the bill dealing with business and real estate loans. He explained also the responsibilities of the lender in case of default and closed with the advice that many veterans might do well to remember that the bill's benefits extend for a 10-year period and need not be taken advantage of immediately.

Lions' Chorus Sings

President Milton R. Remmel presided during the evening with about 120 Lions and guests enjoying a baked ham dinner. There was a brief business meeting of the club following the dinner and there were several selections by the Lions' club chorus under the direction of Richard B. Shade.

The speaking program was held in the basement of the orphanage chapel. Several reels of motion pictures were shown for the entertainment of the kiddies.

Next week the Lions and their ladies will dine at the Shetter House as the guests of Past President Glenn L. Bream, now a zone chairman in District 14C of Lions International.

MARRIED ON MONDAY

Miss Felicitas Regina Marie Orndorff, daughter of William Orndorff, Baltimore, and Mrs. Annie Orndorff, McSherrystown, and Bernard Joseph Elwood Staub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark R. Staub, Hanover R. 4, were married Monday at McSherrystown by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, according to a marriage return filed today at the court house here.

UNDERWRITERS TO MEET

The Hanover-Gettysburg association of Life Underwriters will meet at the Hotel Richard McAllister in Hanover at noon Thursday with Charles G. Velon, field training manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, as the speaker. Mrs. Frances T. Plank, Gettysburg, association secretary, has issued notices for the meeting.

PREPAREDNESS NECESSARY FOR WORLD PEACE

With lack of preparedness failing to prevent World War II, the nation apparently must devise some means of assuring its military might in the future, Col. Alfred E. McKenney, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college, told the local Rotarians Monday night.

Speaking on "Armistice Day 1918 and Now," at the regular session of Rotary at the YWCA the colonel, a veteran of both World Wars, pointed out: "It would appear that we must provide some type of definite program to give backing to what our statesmen say."

"It is costly to maintain an army, but in the world as it is today it seems necessary that armed forces be maintained. Someday, perhaps, our troops will be part of the United Nations police force, but even then we shall have the need for maintaining a force although then it will be for the United Nations rather than for ourselves alone."

To Keep Strong Reserve

The United States' greatest contribution in World War I was its young men while in World War II it gave both equipment and men, the colonel pointed out.

After World War I the army dropped to as low as 120,000 enlisted men, he added.

To prevent the army from again dropping to such a small figure and to maintain a large organized reserve that would make the nation so strong in its potential that no nation would attack it, some means will be devised to build up a strong reserve during the coming years, judging by present indications, the ROTC officer added.

Describe Training Plan

One plan being discussed now by some officials provides for a year's training, as civilians, for all young men in the nation, Colonel McKenney said, describing the plan as (Please Turn to Page 3)

115 Mailmen Attend Banquet Saturday

The Adams county branch of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Pennsylvania held its annual banquet at the Lutheran church in New Oxford Saturday evening with 115 members and guests in attendance. A turkey dinner was served.

The address of welcome was given by the Rev. George Sheffer, New Oxford. State President John R. Hamme, New Oxford, introduced James Myers, Maryland state president, who in turn presented Maryland carriers in attendance. Mr. Hamme also introduced present and past officers of the state unit. There was a solo by Miss Kathryn Winant, New Oxford.

State Secretary Harold Thomas of Orangeville, Pa., introduced the speaker of the evening, National Secretary Glenn W. Folkers, of Mokena, Illinois.

There were carriers present from Adams, Franklin, York, Columbia, Lehigh, Berks, Northampton and Luzerne counties. The meeting was presided over by Walter S. Swisher, president of the Adams county chapter.

Woman's Club To Meet Wednesday

The Woman's club of Gettysburg will hold its November meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. James Overbrook, of Washington, D. C., will be the guest speaker. She will be introduced by Mrs. Wayne Keet, chairman of the American Home and Citizenship department. Mrs. Overbrook has just returned from a trip in the midwest and south where she visited and was the guest speaker of various women's clubs.

Miss Anne Dundore, a student at Gettysburg college, will sing special selections. She will be accompanied by Miss Ruth Koser, a house mother at the college and a member of the Music committee of the Woman's club.

Hostesses for the day include: Mrs. Lloyd C. Keefe, chairman; Mrs. Robert A. Bream, Mrs. Kermit Deardorff, Mrs. Paul Little, Mrs. Ross Myers, Mrs. David Oyler, and Mrs. Ralph Z. Oyler.

Important items of business will be discussed at the meeting.

Evangelist Will Be At Foursquare Church

Viola Gregory, children's and young peoples' evangelist, will conduct a series of services at the Foursquare Gospel church, West Middle street, this week.

Starting today she will conduct a children's church at 4 p. m. and will be in charge of evangelistic services at 7:30 in the evening. This evening she will speak concerning child delinquency.

All services are open to the public.

Brother, Sister, English Girl In Double Wedding; Parents Honeymooned Here

The son and daughter of an Indiana couple who spent a part of their honeymoon 26 years ago visiting Gettysburg and the historic battlefield here, were to be married at 4:30 this afternoon in a double ceremony at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church by the Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of the church.

Richard Morton Ice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Trammel Morton Ice of Muncie, Ind., the 1920 honeymooners, will marry Miss Edith Joan Gertrude Matthews, an English girl whom he met while he was stationed with the Army medical corps in England, in a single ring ceremony. Mr. Ice's sister, Miss Barbara Lou Ice, will be married to Phillip David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Foster Smith, Sr., of Indianapolis, in the double ring ceremony.

Arrived on Queen

Miss Matthews, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard George Matthews, of Axminster, Devon, England, arrived in New York city at 6 a. m. Monday morning on the Queen Elizabeth and was met there by her future husband and his parents and sister, and Mr. Smith. They motored to Gettysburg, arriving Monday evening.

"We were so impressed with Gettysburg during our brief stay here 26 years ago that we decided we would like to return some day," Mr. and Mrs. Ice said today, in accounting for the selection of Gettysburg for this afternoon's double ceremony. "We suggested that our son and daughter be married here, and they liked the idea."

Church Decorated

Miss Alice Snyder, church organist, will play the traditional wedding marches, and during the ceremony will play "The Prayer of Love," Miss Nancy Stinson, of Middletown, Ind., a cousin of Richard and Barbara Ice, will sing "Always," "I Love You Truly" and "Ave Maria." Prayers from the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England will be used at the conclusion of the Ice-Matthews nuptials.

The church will be decorated with white pom poms and white candles. Both brides will wear white wool trimmed in gold, and will carry white roses and white prayer books, and will wear white flowers in their hair.

Wedding Dinner

Following the ceremonies, a dinner will be served this evening at the Hotel Gettysburg for 12. Among those here for the weddings are both grandparents of Richard and Barbara Ice, Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Ice, Mt. Summit, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wilhoit, Middletown, Ind.; Mrs. Mary Cooper, an aunt of Miss Ice, and her daughter, Miss

There will be a rehearsal of the Fairfield Community band Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the community hall there, it was announced today.

Williamsport Police Find Local Man's Car In An Hour

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Menchey, Gettysburg R. 3, today are singing the praises of the Williamsport police, and rightly so.

Sunday evening about 8:45 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Menchey, enroute home from Rochester, N. Y., stopped in Williamsport to make some purchases. Mr. Menchey parked their 1939 Oldsmobile about 300 feet from the store and walked back, leaving their car unlocked. They were in the store less than two minutes and when they returned to their parked space found their car gone. Several pieces of luggage and three overcoats were in the back seat.

Mr. Menchey phoned the Williamsport police who urged them to remain in the city at least for a few hours. Police radio cars were immediately notified and the hunt was on. Strangers in the store invited the Menchey's to their home to await word from the police.

At 9:30 p. m. Mr. Menchey received a phone call from the police that they had found his car. They called for the Menchey's and then drove them to where their car had been found, made a thorough check to ascertain if anything had been stolen.

The thieves had pushed the machine some three blocks and then tried to start the car by crossing wires when police arrived on the scene. The thieves escaped.

Mr. Menchey said today that the Williamsport police treated him and his wife with "every courtesy possible."

"They seemed to go out of their way to be nice to us and offered to assist us in any way that we wished. They were courteous, pleasant and solicitous of our welfare. They even promised to recover our car and they did with the greatest dispatch," Mr. Menchey said.

Library Seeks $1,000 For Children's Books

In connection with the current observance of National Children's Book Week, O. H. Benson, president of the Adams County Free Library association, disclosed that the county library is seeking gifts to a special Juvenile Book Fund which will be used to buy children's books for the library.

The $1,000 fund will be used to increase the library's supply of books for the thousands of young readers who in the first 10 months of operation of the county library have proven to be the heaviest book borrowers.

The fund already contains $600, Mr. Benson said.

"The cost of organizing and starting the county-wide library with its county-wide book service has been at higher costs during the past two

Nancy Stinson, Middletown.

Richard and Barbara Ice are students at Purdue university, West Lafayette, Ind., and Mr. Smith is a student at Butler university, Indianapolis. Mr. Ice, who was a corporal in the medical corps, spent 34 months in the European theatre, 11 months of which was spent in Axminster. Miss Matthews worked in a munitions plant for six years. Mr. Smith, who has 13 battle stars, was a sergeant in the army air corps, and was in the Sicilian and Italian campaigns. He attended Purdue university last year after his return from service, and met Miss Ice there.

The wedding party will leave Gettysburg Wednesday morning to return to Indiana. Mr. Ice and Mr. and Mrs. Smith will return to school on Friday. On Sunday there will be a dinner at Muncie for 26 members of the immediate families, and on November 24 a reception at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Ice, in Mt. Summit.

Asks For Banana

Miss Matthews was both amazed and delighted with what little she has seen of America since arriving in New York city Monday morning. She visited some of the Gettysburg stores this morning, and exclaimed over the merchandise she saw displayed.

"They have everything," she exclaimed. After leaving New York city Miss Matthews said the first thing she wanted was a banana. "If you see any bananas, I would like one," she said. "In England I haven't had a banana for eight years. They were only for children under 12."

She was fascinated by the trip over on the Queen Elizabeth, too. "We had real butter and white bread, and—just think—ice cream after every meal," she marveled. She said they still have "black" bread in England.

The new Mrs. Ice will see her first football game, Purdue versus Indiana, on November 23. On Friday night this week she will attend the annual military ball at Purdue with her new husband.

The parents of Mr. Ice and his sister, Barbara, were also married in a double ceremony 26 years ago in August, Mr. Ice said. Mrs. Ice's brother, C. C. Wilhoit and his bride were married with them at Middletown, Ind.

BAND TO REHEARSE

There will be a rehearsal of the Fairfield Community band Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the community hall there, it was announced today.

FOUR STUDENTS TO SING DIRGE HERE NOV. 19TH

Four Gettysburg high school students will sing the dirge which was used at the dedication of the National cemetery here on November 19, 1863, during the program marking the 83th anniversary of the dedication a week from today.

The singers will be Anna Raffensperger, soprano; Teresa Shealer, alto; William Tipton, tenor and Galen Keeney, bass. The dirge will follow the recitation of "The Gettysburg Address" of Abraham Lincoln, by Dr. Carl O. Rasmussen, Lutheran Theological seminary, just preceding the benediction.

Observance of the anniversary is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Lincoln Fellowship, of which Henry E. Luhrs, Shippensburg, is president. There will be a Lincoln Fellowship dinner at noon at the Hotel Gettysburg, open to members and guests. Tickets are $1.50.

Parade At 2:30 P. M.

At 2:30 p. m. the parade will form and march to the cemetery, where the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church, Gettysburg, will give the invocation at 3:15 p. m.

"America," by the Blue and Gray band, will follow, and then Mr. Luhrs will place a memorial wreath. The address of the day will be given by Congressman Jennings Randolph of Elkins, W. Va. "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" will be played by the Blue and Gray band and Lincoln's address given by Dr. Rasmussen. The dirge and the benediction, by Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church here, will close the program. In the evening the Blue and Gray band will present a concert in Center Square.

Congressman Randolph is a native of Salem, W. Va. He is a graduate of Salem college, and has received honorary degrees from Davis and Elkins college and Southeastern university. He was a journalist and head of the department of public speaking and journalism at Davis and Elkins from 1926 to 1932. He lectured with the Redpath Chautauqua, was governor of the Lions Clubs of West Virginia and is now international counselor; is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, member National Press club, National Aeronautic association, president Congressional Flying club, chairman of the West Virginia Planning Board Aviation committee, and several other clubs and organizations. He was elected to the 73rd Congress and re-elected six times.

PAST GRANDS MEET MONDAY

The Adams County Past Grands' association of the Odd Fellows held its 159th meeting Monday evening at Littlestown with Sylvania lodge. President Dorsey Shultz of Valley Home lodge at Fairfield, presided with 79 members and guests present.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America." The invocation was given by George M. Neely, Fairfield, and the address of welcome by H. Dean Stover of the host lodge. J. Frank Dougherty of Gettysburg responded.

The program for the evening included two reels of motion pictures of the South following the Civil war shown by Mr. Stover.

The past Grands received an invitation to attend a meeting of the York county Past Grands in Hanover on November 29 and a session of the Carroll county unit at New Windsor, December 12.

The next meeting of the Adams county organization will be held at York Springs on December 5. Refreshments were served after the meeting Monday.

COUNTIAN INJURED

William F. Birgensmith, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Birgensmith, Biglerville, was admitted to Carlisle hospital on Sunday with a head injury suffered when he was struck by a board on a building project near his home.

Martin Urges Observance of November 19

Harrisburg, Nov. 12 (AP)—Noting Congress has designated Nov. 19—the anniversary of Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" as Dedication Day, Governor Martin suggested today appropriate ceremonies be held "celebrating one of the great events in history and within the boundaries of our own Pennsylvania."

450 AT LEGION DANCE MONDAY

Charles W. Haverstock, 56 Breckenridge street, was the name on the car ticket at the Armistice Day dance program conducted by the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion Monday night at the Hotel Annex.

A total of 250 persons jammed the dance floor for the annual affair while another 200 gathered about the halls of the annex and filled the seats in the grandstand to hear Al Shirey's orchestra from York.

Lawrence M. Sheads, general chairman for the event, was assisted by Harry Troxell, LeRoy Winebrenner, Albert Cardenti and Roy Fridinger while Eugene Piel was in charge of tickets sales for the dance.

Child Selects Winner

Gettysburg's square was filled with contribution solicitors of the Legion who took up stands around the circle during the early evening and remained on duty throughout the evening. Victor "Swift" Palmer was back from circus duty to take up his traditional chores of soliciting donations for the Legion on Armistice Day.

Because the drum usually used proved too small Monday night, the floor of the gymnasium was filled with donation tickets and Leonard Stanley, St. Louis, Mo., an overnight guest at the Hotel Gettysburg, was called to assist. He picked two-year-old Garry Fair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fair, Biglerville R. 2, from the audience and Garry made the selection.

Two vocalists, Elaine Good and Max Pfaff, sang with the orchestra during the dance.

'Y' DIRECTORS MEET MONDAY

Letters of thanks for a number of donations will be sent by the YWCA board to the contributors, the members decided Monday afternoon at a regular meeting of the board of directors, held at the "YW."

The letters will go to Mrs. Mary Allison for making draperies for the living room at the "Y" and to Walter Africa for making new poles for the drapes. A letter will also go to Mrs. H. C. Albright for her gift of sweaters to the Kiddie Kit.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Wayne Keet, house committee; the treasurer, Mrs. Howard S. Fox; Mrs. Charles Lauer, Annie Danner club; Mrs. John D. Teeter, Rotary committee, and Sara Jane Maust, Business and Professional Women's club. Mrs. Richard A. Brown, the president, reported on a recent convention at Harrisburg.

In her report Mrs. Lauer announced that the Annie Danners had had a portrait of Annie Danner refurbished and had taken part in numerous events at the "Y" during the last month. The Business and Professional Women's report disclosed that club had given $5 each to the Civic Nursing drive, county library and kiddie kit appeal.

Mrs. Guile Levefer had charge of devotions on the theme, "Our Heritage."

Boy, 10, Treated For Broken Leg

Kenneth Sentz, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sentz, 39 West King street, Littlestown, was admitted to the hospital today for treatment to a fracture of his left leg above the knee received in a fall at school this morning.

Catherine Cunningham, 188 South Stratton street, was given medical attention for a laceration of her left hand sustained while washing dishes at her home.

Admissions included Mrs. John Heiser, Gettysburg R. 2; Mrs. George F. Smith, 129 West High street; Mrs. Glenn Tipton, Gettysburg R. 5; John McMaster, Gettysburg R. 5; Joseph Heranicka, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Calvin Stottlemeyer, Littlestown; Mrs. John H. Miller, Breckenridge street; Mrs. Ira M. Henderson, Fairfield; Mrs. Frank Gamache, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Forrest Bream and infant daughter, Janet Marie, Aspers; Mrs. Richard Oster and infant daughter, Mary Martha, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Wilbur Kelley and infant, Carson Leslie, and Mrs. John T. Pitzer, West Middle street, were discharged.

SCHOOL BOARD TO INVESTIGATE COSTS ON TWO BUILDING PLANS

The Gettysburg school board, meeting at the high school Monday night, directed Superintendent of Schools Lloyd C. Keefe to take the first steps toward a junior-senior high school setup here. They directed that preliminary estimates be obtained from J. Alfred Hamme, York architect, on two proposals, a new, separate building, and an addition to the present high school building.

Superintendent Keefe said 20 to 25 additional classrooms would be needed to take care of the junior-senior setup, including provision for the sixth grade at High Street school. Normally, the cost would approximate $5,000 per room, but would now run about $12,000, he said. He estimated the cost of a new building at $400,000. The bond limit is $150,000. The present building cost about $225,000, he said.

The directors discussed both the question of a new building and an addition to the present building, and it was also suggested that a series of "shops" might be constructed back of the present gymnasium, for the agriculture and vocational departments. Two gymnasiums will be needed, Dr. Keefe said, but a new auditorium could be dispensed with at the present time.

School Rated High

Dr. Keefe said that within four or five years the board could probably get government help, but school board members said "the quicker we can get this thing started, even without government help, the better off we'll be."

The board granted permission to Gettysburg college to use the gymnasium at the high school for college basketball practice. The Girl Scouts were given permission to use the auditorium November 26 for a benefit show, and the alumni obtained permission to hold its dance at the school December 26.

Dr. Keefe reported that of the 162 high schools in third class cities in Pennsylvania, only four were better than Gettysburg in regard to teacher preparation, according to a state report. Gettysburg, he said, had a higher percentage of college graduates than 157 others.

The cafeteria report showed a balance September 30, of $285.54; October deposits of $685.46 and total receipts of $971. Expenditures totaled $652.49 leaving a $318.51 balance. The cafeteria profit for October was shown as $78.59. Because of the bank holiday Monday, there was no treasurer's report.

The board authorized repairs to the concrete gymnasium steps after receiving an estimate from John S. Teeter and Sons of $50 for the work. The steps will be reinforced and covered with two inches of concrete.

Dr. Keefe was authorized to purchase two wash sinks, one for the photographic room of the physics department, and the other for the boys' health storage room. He was also authorized to purchase basketball and volleyball equipment for the health classes at an estimated cost of $100.

No action was taken on a request for new mats for the gymnasium for wrestling. It was reported that wrestling and boxing are two coming sports at the school. Playground or sports equipment will eventually be needed for the grade schools, it was pointed out.

TIPTONS MARK ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. C. Tyson Tipton, 143 Buford avenue, received congratulations from their many relatives and friends Sunday when they celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The couple was married on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, 1896, at 8 o'clock by the late Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, at the parsonage of the church which was, at that time, located on Carlisle street.

The couple started housekeeping at 12 Carlisle street, which had been vacated by

MOST CRITICAL
HOUR IN WORLD
AFFAIRS HERE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

There are grave problems waiting in the foreign field for that cooperation which has been promised between President Truman and Republican congressional leaders under the new set-up resulting from the national elections.

This is the most critical hour in international affairs since war's end. It is with good reason that the Chief executive characterizes the foreign policy as a "national and not a party program," for peace is in the balance.

The western world has come to look on Europe as providing the greatest danger spots—perhaps because we are close to them—and there's no doubt about their seriousness. However, don't forget the Pacific, for the far east is as explosive as an atomic bomb, and if fate decrees that we must have another war it may come out of the orient quite as easily as from the familiar warring grounds of conflict in Europe.

Russian View

One of the delicate questions revolves about the American proposal to place Japanese-mandated islands and other former enemy islands under a united nations trusteeship with the United States as the administering authority. Indications from Moscow are that Russia will reject this proposition. The official Soviet news agency, Tass, refers to it as a "United States attempt to make a huge part of the Pacific with a huge number of islands its own strategic zone which may be bound up with a plan preparing for future war."

The allegation gives us the keynote to this whole involved Asiatic situation which of course comprises far more than the Japanese islands. For instance, take Korea which is quite as likely to produce war as most any spot you can mention. Control of Korea was one of the chief causes of the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-5, as it had been of the Chinese-Russian conflict a decade earlier.

President Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek at a secret meeting in Cairo in November of 1943 agreed that Korea should be made free and independent "in due course." But the way things now stand she is looking at independence through the big end of the telescope.

BULLETINS

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Scheduled conference between Secretary of Interior Krug and John L. Lewis today was postponed for 24 hours without any immediate explanation. The two were to have met this afternoon at 2:30 to resume their soft coal mining contract negotiations.

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—A sharp rise in the prices of many soaps, one of the major scarcity items, began to appear today in the wake of the abolition of OPA price ceilings. In Boston, Walter McKee, vice president of Lever Brothers, one of the major soap manufacturers, reported his company's products were being increased immediately by "approximately 50 per cent."

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Fresh evidence that Russia may eventually agree to some form of international inspection to enforce disarmament, including elimination of atomic weapons, was seen today in an assertion by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that Russian and American arms reduction proposals can be "harmonized."

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—John J. Pelley, president of the association of American railroads, died today in Doctors hospital. He was 68.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal, newly named chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, today urged state and municipal governments to combat the trend to overcentralization of government or face "a disastrous consequence."

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Reported United States opposition today virtually ruled out any likelihood that the United Nations would approve a proposed $400,000,000 emergency food fund to help meet Europe's food deficits after the expiration of UNRRA.

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Early establishment of the United Nations trusteeship council apparently was assured today by small nation support of proposals advanced by the United States and Britain in an effort to speed action.

BODIES SOLVE
45-DAY-OLD
KIDNAP CASE

Toms River, N. J., Nov. 12 (AP)—The badly-decomposed bodies of Mrs. Mary Kimmy and an ex-convict suitor who, police say, kidnaped her, lay in a morgue today here in the final chapter of what State Police Captain Walter J. Coughlin termed a "clear cut case of murder and suicide."

Coughlin said, however, the investigation would continue in order to piece together full details of the bizarre case, which began September 27 with the kidnaping of Mrs. Kimmy from her husband's bed in a Little Silver, N. J., boarding house. New Jersey FBI Chief S. K. McKee said his organization also would continue its inquiry.

A patch of red dress spotted from a navy blimp led yesterday to the discovery of the bodies in Lebanon state forest and ended a nation-wide hunt which began 45 days previously. The two were sprawled about a quarter of a mile from the road where the kidnap automobile was found by duck hunters Sunday.

Shot Through Heads

Each had a bullet hole in his head, a police sergeant said, and a .45 calibre revolver with two exploded cartridges was found near the bodies.

Mrs. Kimmy, 26-year-old wife of Sgt. Glynn F. Kimmy, was dressed in the same red, black and yellow plaid skirt and red coat she had put on hastily early on the morning of September 27. The FBI said that Chalmers Laubaugh, on parole from a prison near Washington, D. C., had gained entry into her room by posing as an FBI agent and forced her at gunpoint to accompany him.

She was identified by her husband, a member of the U. S. Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, who was driven to the scene by state police. Nearby was Laubaugh's body clad in the same blue shirt and trousers he wore on the day of the kidnaping. His wallet and her bag containing a social security card and a picture of Mrs. Kimmy and her husband were found nearby. The ground was covered with cigarette butts indicating, Coughlin said, that the two had evidently been discussing what to do.

Mrs. Kimmy had told her husband she was afraid of Laubaugh, whom she once had testified against when he was on trial on a Mann Act violation charge.

Purchase Property
For Church School

The consistory of Zion Reformed church, Arendtsville, the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor, acting as trustees for the congregation, has purchased the A. Laura Pettis property adjacent to the church property on Main street.

Unanimous approval by the congregation to this action by the consistory was given at a congregational meeting held at the close of the morning service Sunday. After repairs to the house on the property, consisting of a new roof on the south side, papering and painting the three rooms of the first floor, are completed, these three rooms will be occupied by the Nursery, Beginners and Primary departments of the church school thus relieving the crowded conditions prevailing in the present room occupied by these departments.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Heiges, of Washington, D. C., spent Saturday with Dr. Heiges' mother, Mrs. E. Dale Heiges, of Biglerville.

HIGHWAY DEATHS

Harrisburg, Nov. 12 (AP)—The state Bureau of Highway Safety reported today 1,221 persons were killed in highway accidents in the first nine months of this year. The figure represented an increase of 339 over the corresponding period of 1945 but was 349 fewer than the first nine months of 1941, the last pre-war year.

SAYS U.S. WILL BE HIT FIRST

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—Condemning the "people who forget fast," the wartime chief of U. S. Army Air Forces warns that if another war comes "the United States will be hit first and with the whole bag of tricks."

General Henry H. (Hap) Arnold, speaking at Armistice Day ceremonies, declared that isolation and postwar apathy have gripped many people in this country.

"Before it is too late," he said, "we must remobilize our national spirit, else truly once again men—our men—shall have died in vain and V-E and V-J Days become in part just Armistice days to mark the interlude between more periods of bloodshed."

The general, noting that American production, materials, manpower and dollars swung the tide of battle in favor of the allied nations, said that if war comes again, "you can rest assured that there will be no allies holding the line while we get ready to fight."

"Any aggressor nation venturesome enough to start such a war will not make that mistake again," he said. "We will be hit first and hit with the whole bag of tricks."

Weapons of the future, he asserted, "will make the atomic bomb look like a mere toy."

Stole Material To Build, Furnish Home

Portland, Ore., Nov. 12 (AP)—A three-room home built with stolen materials was listed today along with household furnishings and extensive wardrobes Sheriff Martin Pratt said were accumulated in a year by a young woman and her ex-husband charged here with 30 burglaries.

The sheriff said the $10,000 in loot which four deputies spent a night and a day itemizing included a $1,200 mink coat, two sets of silverware, a vacuum cleaner, radios, a portable sewing machine, a typewriter and several hundred household articles and clothing.

Pratt reported William Franklin Leonard, 41, and his divorced wife, Christina Leonard, readily admitted the thefts after their arrest in the home they built a few months ago. Most of the stolen building materials, which deputies described as the best of quality, had been taken from housing project jobs on which Leonard worked daytime during the past year.

Immigration Law
Abuses To Be Aired

Detroit, Nov. 12 (AP)—The House Immigration committee will begin next Monday a far-reaching inquiry into reports of wide spread abuse of immigration laws and regulations. Rep. John Lesinski (D-Mich.), committee chairman, said today. One of the chief aims of the investigation will be to uncover alleged "leaks" which are permitting illegal entry of Communists and other undesirables into the United States, the Congressman said.

The House Committee, Lesinski declared, has information indicating that the State Department is by-passing legitimate quotas and allowing undesirables to enter the country.

At the conclusion of the inquiry here, the committee will conduct similar hearings at other ports, Lesinski said, including Seattle, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

States Asked For Aid For Veterans

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Governors of all states have been asked by the Federal Security Administration to seek legislation appropriating $12,000,000 to help finance the nation's expanded program for rehabilitating disabled civilians during the next fiscal year.

Administrator Watson B. Miller said the goal calls for putting 150,000 handicapped civilians back in paying jobs. In letters to the governors he outlined quotas for each state and the amounts of money the states must raise to match funds provided by the federal government.

The 150,000 goal is 300 per cent higher than last year, Miller said, but added that at present there are about 1,000,000 disabled persons in the country who still need rehabilitation services.

SISTER KENNY DAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 12 (AP)—Governor Martin urged Pennsylvanians today "to join in the observance" of Sister Kenny Day Saturday, November 23. "Infantile paralysis claims children as its principle victims and leaves many of them crippled for life," the governor said in a statement. "To help these sufferers regain normal health the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation was established."

ARMY AND PENN TOP GRID CARD FOR SATURDAY

By MURRAY ROSE

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The East comes up with its biggest all-around football show of the season Saturday with three Ivy league games on tap along with such outstanding tilts matching Army and Penn, Penn State and Navy, Boston college and Tennessee, and Colgate and Syracuse.

Army and Penn rate top billing, of course.

Spilled 17-14 by Princeton two Saturdays ago in the biggest eastern upset in years, the Quakers are not only out to boost their current No. 5 national rating but also to make amends for the 61-0 shellacking they took from the Cadets a year ago.

This game is Army's last before the Navy classic November 30. Penn State similarly is Navy's last opponent before the annual service shindig and the Middies are hopeful of breaking into the win column for the first time since they tripped Villanova in the season opener.

The Middies have dropped six in a row but showed signs against Georgia Tech Saturday that they may even make matters rough for Army. The Ramblin' Wreck nipped Navy 28-20, but had to go all out with a late rally to win.

State No Pushover

Penn State is far from a pushover, however. The Nittany Lions boast a 5-1 record and walloped Temple 26-0 in their last outing.

Syracuse, rated at the bottom of upper New York's "Big Three," can clinch the triangular title by stopping Colgate at Syracuse. The Orange kicked over the dope bucket in halting Cornell, 14-7, Saturday and since the Big Red already had defeated Colgate, Syracuse can gain a clear claim to the crown.

Ivy League games send Princeton to Yale, Brown to Harvard and Dartmouth to Cornell. Harvard is only two steps away from the Ivy championship with a 2-0 slate and should maintain its batting average against the Rhode Islanders who were massacred 49-0 by Yale. Harvard defeated Dartmouth, the loop's cellar club, 21-7. After Brown the Crimson winds up its campaign against Yale. Columbia's Lions, licking the wounds of their pasting from Penn, entertain Lafayette and what happens to the latter shouldn't happen even to a Leopard.

Another New York city contest pairs Fordham and New York U. This traditional tilt in pre-war years was the big town's No. 2 game—second only to the Notre Dame-Army affair—but both schools have deemphasized football and their records show it.

ARMY RETAINS TOP POSITION

By AUSTIN BEALMER

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Army and Notre Dame fought to a scoreless tie in their historic grid battle here last Saturday but when the votes were counted today in the weekly poll of the Associated Press to pick the nation's ten top teams the Cadets wound up in first place by a very narrow margin.

Among the 144 writers who participated in the poll, including the sports editor of the Stars and Stripes in Germany, 57 of them cast first place ballots for Army and 31 decided that Notre Dame should be on top.

Thirty-six of them had as much trouble reaching a decision as the teams themselves had on the field. These 36 voted for a first-place tie between the two.

On the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, and so on, the Cadets came up with a total of 1,300½ points against 1,266½ for Notre Dame.

Georgia Third

Georgia's all-victorious Bulldogs, who downed Florida, 33-14, for their seventh triumph of the season, retained the third position in the standings with 12 first-place votes and a total of 1,061 points.

The seven remaining first-place votes went to the University of California at Los Angeles, which kept its record clean with a 14-0 victory over Oregon and held on to fourth place with 961½ points.

Huntingdon High Loses 25th Game

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—Huntingdon high school, undefeated in 24 consecutive games, was knocked out of the Western Football conference running when it bowed to Ebensburg, 6-0 yesterday. Holochuck, 130-pound Ebensburg back, raced 64 yards for the only score.

Bellwood-Antis, its season concluded, remained the only undefeated and untied team in the conference.

In other games played today, Curwensville and Clearfield played to a 0-0 tie; DuBois downed Punxsutawney, 20-7; State College won over Bellefonte, 6-0, and Cresson defeated Gallitzin, 6-0.

Five more conference games remain to be played but none will affect the standings of the leaders.

Never use DDT products near foods or drinking water.

Urge Action On Rose Bowl Game

Los Angeles, Nov. 12 (AP)—Agitation continued today for the Pacific Coast conference to get busy and find out which team—specifically Army—would be agreeable to a Rose Bowl bid.

"Time's a-wastin'," said local members of the Football Writers association in adopting a resolution urging the conference to explore the possibility of the Cadets accepting an invitation for the New Year's Day game.

Still unsettled was the role, if any, that the Western conference will play in the Rose Bowl picture this New Year's.

"All we know of votes and decisions back there are what we read in the newspapers," said Coast Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt, referring to a proposed Rose Bowl pact with the Big Nine.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Portsmouth, Va., Nov. 12 (AP)—That slight discussion of baseball ethics (meaning "don't rob me and I won't rob you") which surrounded the drafting of Jack (Lucky) Lehrke by the Giants, isn't the only event of that sort in baseball this year.

Brooklyn for instance failed to pick up a couple of the best players on its Newport News farm club and the Cubs, with whom Portsmouth's Piedmont League club is affiliated, grabbed off one of them.

Minor league officials hereabouts say there's plenty of the same sort of business going on because there are so many good players that some are bound to be overlooked. . . Hottest report in southern conference circles is that Maryland will pay off Clark Shaughnessy for the remainder of his five-year contract and look for another football coach. . . The story is that Frank Dobson, former Maryland tutor, already has turned down the job.

ONE MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Several southern conference grid coaches are questioning the legality of the shift Carl Snavely is using at North Carolina U., claiming it violates the rule which says no such play may be designed to draw the opposing team offside. . . Wonder what there is in the story that Jorge Pasquel, the Mexican league boss, has been trying to get Davey Banks to organize an "original celtics" basketball team to tour Mexico this winter. . . Davey, you may have noticed, wasn't included when the real Celtics were reassembled for an exhibition last night. . . William and Mary college, which is plugging Knox Ramsey for all-America guard with the claim that he's even better than his brother Buster, is due to come up with one of the season's top basketballers in Johnny Jorgensen, who used to feed George Mikan at DePaul.

ALL AMERICA TEAM

Norfolk Granby high school football team, winner of 28 straight games, includes Chick Stobbs, who pitched expertly in the all-America boys baseball game last summer; Henry Foiles, picked for the all-America scholastic track team as a javelin thrower, and Chauncey Willis, Hampton One-design class yachts.

Duquesne Frosh Defeat Alliance

Oil City, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—The Duquesne university Freshmen, playing in a steady drizzle and chill wind, downed Alliance college 25-0 in a charity football game here last night.

Duquesne chalked up its first tally in the opening period when Vince Sundry raced 58 yards with a returned punt. Thereafter there was no scoring until the final frame when Duquesne clicked off three counters, one of them a 75-yard punt runback by Mike Basilone.

Westinghouse Wins City Football Title

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12 (AP)—Pete Dimperio's Westinghouse high school eleven romped over Allegheny high, 27-7, last night to win the Pittsburgh city football championship for the third consecutive time.

Herb Lintelman, ace halfback for Westinghouse, scored two of his team's touchdowns before he had to leave the game with a cracked bone in his right ankle. He was taken to Pittsburgh hospital for treatment.

SCHMELING REAPPEARS

Berlin, Nov. 12 (AP)—The British military government has granted Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight boxing champion, a license to resume his activity in the ring. The British press service reported today from Hamburg. The 41-year-old fighter previously had been blacklisted for his work for the Nazis and subsequently was punished by the British for violation of rules prohibiting private building.

NOBEL PRIZE RUMORS

Stockholm, Nov. 12 (AP)—The newspaper Morgontidningen, which often speaks for the government, said today it was likely that Nobel prizes in chemistry and physics would be awarded to American scientists. T. W. Bridgman of Harvard university and Donald W. Kerst, who has done research for the general electric company, were mentioned as likely candidates for the physics award.

85 CANDIDATES TURN OUT FOR BULLET DRILLS

A squad of 85 reported to Coach "Hen" Bream Monday evening in response to his first call for Gettysburg college basketball candidates.

The group met in a room in Glatfelter hall where Coach Bream outlined the plans for the season.

Drills will start this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A 21-game schedule has been arranged for the Bullets, first of which will be played here Wednesday, December 11, with Lebanon Valley college.

The complete Bullet schedule follows:

December 11, Lebanon Valley, here; 14, Juniata, away; 18, LaSalle, away; January 8, Dickinson, home; 11, Lehigh, home; 15, Navy, away; 18, Lafayette, home; 20, Franklin and Marshall, home; 22, Penn, away; 25, Western Maryland, home; February 1, Lehigh, away; 5, Albright, home; 8, Muhlenberg, away; 12, Bucknell, home; 15, Lafayette, away; 19, Muhlenberg, home; 22, Bucknell, away; 26, Temple, home; March 1, Rutgers, away; 5, Dickinson, away; 8, Franklin and Marshall, away.

BENEFITS UNDER GI BILL STAND

Contrary to popular opinion, young men who were unable to enlist in the new Regular Army before October 6th have not lost the educational benefits under the GI Bill of Rights. It is true that the army cannot guarantee the full benefits for an entire enlistment since the amount is determined by the duration of the war. In order to clarify the present status of the educational provisions the following information is presented:

Any young man who enlists in the army for 1½, 2, or 3 years and serves 90 days — one day of which occurs before the termination of World War II is declared — will be entitled, upon honorable discharge, to a year of education in a college, trade or business school of his choice for which he can qualify.

In addition, he is entitled to an additional month of education, up to 48 months, for each month (including the first three) he serves prior to the official termination of the war.

For example, if he enlists tomorrow and the war is declared ended two months from tomorrow, and he is on active duty 90 or more days, he would be entitled, after honorable discharge, to one year and two months of education.

The government will pay tuition; laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, and give $65 a month living allowance; $90 a month if the man has dependents.

In addition to the educational benefits, the soldier also gets the many other benefits of the GI Bill of Rights and family allowances for the duration plus six months.

CHURCHES PLAN WORLD SERVICE

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—The Evangelical church, holding its 34th and final conference here, has named a committee of six women to meet with a similar group from the United Brethren in Christ Church to plan world service work after the formal merger of the two churches here Saturday.

Members of the committee are Miss Ruth Dietzel, Tiffin, Ohio; Mrs. H. S. Frank, Farmington, Minn.; Mrs. C. Newton Kidd, Baltimore; Mrs. Maude Shambaugh, Wrightsville, Pa.; Mrs. Nellie Frank, Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. J. S. Stamm, Harrisburg, Pa.

The conference, presided over by Bishop John S. Stamm of Harrisburg, chose the Rev. I. L. Schweitzer of Naperville, Ill., district superintendent of the Illinois conference, to act as its secretary.

Named as assistant secretaries were two ministers and a layman, the Rev. F. A. Firestone of Ohio, the Rev. G. H. Bamford of Iowa, and C. E. Kachel of Pennsylvania.

About 350 delegates are attending the meeting in Beulah Evangelical church. They included the Rev. Frederick Gloor of Berne, Switzerland. He was the only European delegate. Those named from three German conferences could not get visas to attend. One Canadian and 24 U. S. conferences were represented.

The United Brethren church will hold its final conference here tomorrow to Friday. The merger of the Evangelical group's 260,000 members with the United Brethren's 450,000 will make the combined Evangelical United Brethren church the 10th largest in the country.

STRIKE THREAT

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The third strike threat of the year against the city's unified transit system was reduced today to a single issue—sole collective bargaining rights—following withdrawal of legal action to prevent payment of $6,000,000 in retroactive pay hikes to transit workers.

Press Probe Of Election Murder

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The death of Joseph Scottireggio, 42, injured in an election day assault, brought from Governor Thomas E. Dewey today a promise that "the combined forces of the city, county and state of New York will relentlessly pursue those responsible for the murder."

Scottireggio, district captain for Frederick V. P. Bryan, GOP candidate defeated for Congress in the 18th District by Rep. Vito Marcantonio, Democratic-Labor Party incumbent, was slugged on a street corner while enroute to a polling place. He died yesterday.

The District Attorney's office said the political campaign had not been linked conclusively with the attack but added that angle was under consideration.

See Postponement Of China Assembly

Nanking, Nov. 12 (AP)—Political observers today said Chiang Kai-shek again might postpone the opening of the national assembly if the Communists and other minorities still decline to participate.

The off-delayed convention which is to frame a coalition government, was scheduled to open today but was postponed until Friday when the Communists refused to participate, insisting that military forces revert to their January 13 positions first. Third party elements had suggested the meeting be deferred until the end of the month in the hope of working out some compromise.

About 300,000 houses were completely destroyed and 800,000 damaged in France during the last war.

INSPIRATION MAY DETERMINE GAME OUTCOME

By HERB ALTSCHULL

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—That intangible football factor called inspiration may well determine the outcome of the Army-Pennsylvania game Saturday.

But the inspirational theme has its point and counter point:

1. Penn, with one of its classiest teams in history, will be "up" for the game, remembering the 62-7 and 61-0 defeats the last two seasons.

The Red and Blue team also is out to make up for its surprising 17-14 loss to Princeton, the only blemish on its 1946 record.

2. But Army also has inspirational factors in its favor. The mighty wartime Cadet team, with only two more games to play before graduation breaks it up, may be on the rebound after being held scoreless by Notre Dame after 25 straight victories.

Likewise, the Cadets recall that Penn administered Army its worst football drubbing on Franklin Field, winning 48-0 in 1940.

Preliminary betting figures rate Army a 13- or 14-point favorite for the Franklin Field spectacle to be witnessed by nearly 80,000 persons.

Moscow, Nov. 12 (AP)—Col. Gen. Nikolai Il'ich Burdenko, chief surgeon of Russia's armed forces and a supreme Soviet deputy, is dead at 68, it was announced today.

Return To States After GOP Victory

Miami, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP)—A wealthy American who left this country in 1939 because of a feud with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, headed north today on a visit to his former home at Hyde Park, N. Y.

He is Howland Spencer, who returned to the United States yesterday for the first time in seven years because of the Republican landslide of November 5.

"It shook me out of my hermitage," Spencer said upon arrival here from Harbor Island, Eleuthera, Bahamas, where he has established legal residence and received a grant of land.

Spencer formerly lived on a 500-acre estate called "Krum Elbow" across the Hudson river from the late President's Hyde Park home. In 1938 he turned the property over to the Negro cult leader, Father Divine, for use as a cult "heaven."

He said he had kept a house on the property and was going there to "air out my part of heaven."

EVIDENCE ALL IN

Key West, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP)—A signed statement in which Joseph Watson, 22, negro navy cook, is alleged to have admitted the strangling and robbing of a shipmate aboard a U. S. Destroyer last July 25 was the final piece of evidence submitted by the prosecution here yesterday as the government rested its case.

The Santa Fe Trail was first surveyed from Fort Osage, Missouri, in 1825 by George Sibley. The first dry cell battery was made by a Frenchman, George La Clanche, in 1868.

PREPAREDNESS

"not the plan, possibly not even a plan, that will be presented to congress, but just a plan that is being discussed at present."

The program would call for every youth to register at 17. Between his 18th and 20th year each man would go to a reception center where for two weeks he would undergo physical, mental and aptitude tests. After that he would go to the army, navy, or air corps and to the branch, as far as possible, of his own choosing.

Still a civilian, operating under a code of conduct rather than the articles of war, the youth would then spend eight weeks in basic training and an additional 16 weeks in advanced training. After that his remaining six months training would come either in ROTC, National Guard, or in technical training schools, depending on his skills, desires and ambitions. Or he could enlist in the army for a term.

Two New Members

Such a program would be administered under a civilian board and would act to provide training for the army's junior leaders as well as give every able bodied man some training. It would provide the army and navy with a reservoir of men about whom the forces would know the qualifications and who would have some military training, he added.

Leftist Victories In Italian Cities

Rome, Nov. 12 (AP)—Leftist victories in five of six big cities in Italy's municipal elections Sunday appeared today to point to the enforced union of the divided opposition.

At the same time, it seemed inevitable that the political swing of the country indicated by the local votes would affect the uneasy balance of the four-party government of Premier Alcide de Gasperi, whose Christian Democrats showed up poorly.

Virtually complete returns from the cities showed that Communist-Socialist coalitions had triumphed in traditionally conservative Rome and Naples, the Communists alone in Genoa, Turin and Florence and the right and center only in Palermo, Sicily.

The middle-of-the-road, Vatican-supported Christian Democrats, who won 207 constituent-assembly seats to the Socialists' 115 and Communists' 104 in the June 2 national elections and previously took the majority of 5,722 municipal elections, slipped Sunday to second and third places.

Introduced at the meeting, Dr. Willard Lanning and Curtis Lafayette. Forty-nine members and guests attended, with the president, Dr. C. N. Gitt, presiding.

THE REASONS BEHIND OUR REQUEST

Wait Until Next Season Before Changing to Gas Heat

The unprecedented requests for changing to gas heat threaten to tax our transmission and distribution systems beyond the limits of good service. This comes at a time when it is impossible to secure the pipe, fittings and compressors necessary to handle the overwhelming demand.

WHY THE GREAT SWING TO GAS HEAT?

For years gas has been sold as a heating fuel of luxury value. Numerous tangibles, other than fuel cost, were included in its value to win public acceptance. Now the rise in price of other fuels makes gas heat the most economical today on a straight fuel cost basis in nearly all areas in this general part of the country.

MATERIAL AND LABOR SHORTAGE

You who have been trying to buy an automobile, soap chips, white shirts or other scarce items readily will understand our position. We and our affiliates are trying to spend some 50 million dollars to improve the facilities for bringing gas from the abundant fields of supply to your premises. Because of the dire shortage of necessary materials and skilled manpower to install them, only a fraction of this 50 million can be spent this year.

TEXAS GAS

The Tennessee Gas Transmission Corporation, which owns a line bringing a large percentage of our gas from Texas fields, have plans for adding to the capacity of their system for several hundred miles. When completed this will increase substantially the amounts of gas they can deliver to us.

NEW SUPPLY FOR EXTREME WEATHER

We are installing a total of 71 tanks of 30,000 gallons each which will be filled with propane (liquid petroleum gas of a type commonly used by families living beyond gas lines in rural areas) which will blend with our gas. The project will make available the equivalent of 30 million cubic feet of gas a day. This supply is intended for use only in extreme weather. It will exhaust itself in a few days of use and our suppliers will require months to refill the tanks.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company has recently completed 54 miles of 20" pipe line to provide an addition to the gas supply, but other contemplated projects were not completed due to the inability to obtain necessary pipe and equipment.

SOME NEIGHBORHOOD LINES OVERLOADED

A survey just completed has disclosed that more gas heating installations have been made in some areas than the capacity of our street mains can serve adequately. Only major insurmountable problems are mentioned here. There are many, many lesser ones.

HEATING CONTRACTORS AND DEALERS COOPERATING

These reasons have prompted the decision to discontinue the sale of gas heating equipment to those having other forms of heating for the coming season. Responsible heating contractors and dealers are cooperating by adopting this plan.

INDUSTRIAL CURTAILMENTS LIKELY

This winter, during periods of severe weather, it most likely will be necessary to curtail industries using gas in their manufacturing processes. All large users of gas for industry have been notified of this possible condition, thus giving them time to make other provisions. Even with this relief, it is possible that some areas will experience low gas pressures if outside temperatures become too low.

PROTECTION FOR G. I. HOUSING

We have a dual obligation to G. I. veterans and the Civilian Production Administration. With both, we intend to cooperate fully by making gas service available to permanent new construction. Through this conservation program, installation materials and resources can be made available for new buildings.

DON'T BE MISLED

By giving you and our other customers reasons for this immediate action, we hope to have the same support from you that heating contractors have promised. Let no one persuade you that the facts are other than here stated. The delay in converting your present heating system to gas until a more favorable time is the best protection of service to your community.

Chrysanthemum Exhibition: D. Z. Thyer will have an exhibition of chrysanthemums at his Green house in this place, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 14th, 15th and 16th. Admission 10 cents. The proceeds are for the benefit of the churches of town. Tickets can be purchased from a committee of any church.

Wedding Bells: On Tuesday evening, November 10, at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. C. Tyson Tipton, the only son of the Hon. William H. Tipton, member-elect of the Legislature, and Miss Mame Diller, daughter of the late Simon J. Diller, were quietly married at the parsonage of the Reformed minister, Dr. T. B. Barkley, who performed the ceremony. Harry C. Houser acted as best man and Miss Bessie Tipton as bridesmaid. The bride, carrying a bouquet of the valley, wore a very becoming gown of imported Scotch cheviot. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride on Carlisle street, where the Grand Army Band serenaded the happy couple.

Marriages: McDannell-Deardorff.—October 24, at Fairfield, by Rev. W. J. Scherer, Jacob D. McDannell to Miss Minnie M. Deardorff, both of Franklin township.
Myers-Julius—October 20, at Bermudian, by Rev. G. W. Welsh, Charles C. Myers, of Allegheny, to Miss Cora A. Julius, of Bermudian.
Myers-Linn—November 5, at Mt. Joy parsonage, by Rev. W. G. Minnick, Charles E. Myers, of Harney, Md., to Miss Cora L. Linn, of Carroll county, Md.
Orndorff-Smith—October 27, at Bonneauville, by Rev. M. J. McBride, Charles E. Orndorff to Miss Estella M. Smith, both of Mount-pleasant township.

Yingling-Bair—November 1, at Littletown, by Rev. Edward E. Blint, David J. Yingling, of Cumberland township, to Miss Lillie Bair, of Carroll county, Md.

Death's Doings: In the death of Mrs. Eunice D. Smith, who died November 4th at the age of 85 years, Gettysburg loses one of its oldest and most respected citizens.

She was married to Rev. Samuel B. Smith, a native of this place in 1847. Mr. Smith was a Home Missionary of the Presbyterian church. With him she endured the hardships of Missionary life in the West till her husband's health failed. In 1865 they returned to Gettysburg, where they lived happily together in a pleasant home on Carlisle street until his death in 1879.

Mrs. Smith never seemed to grow old. She took great interest in the affairs of both Church and State. Her body rests in the cemetery here beside her husband.

Personal Mention: Mr. John Armor, of Philadelphia, is at his home in this place, recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Miss Mame Ziegler is visiting friends in New York and Philadelphia.

Mr. Charles Armor, of Philadelphia, is visiting his father in this place.

Today's Talk

UNDYING BEAUTY

Spending a weekend at a friend's home, a thousand miles from my own, I was intrigued by the beautiful planting about his place — a riot of color this beautiful Autumn. Everywhere there were groups of color, and not arranged formally, but everything in balanced form, so that as you walked about you were conscious of one who planted and so arranged his garden that his friends and guests would keep discovering new ideas.

Being an artist and a traveler to many interesting and historical places, my friend had placed memories all over his place — in statues, many of his own creation, in his outdoor fireplace, and in hidden nooks, here and there. Here I have seen the personality of the friend and artist scattered all about his interesting country home. And in his house are treasures everywhere — old furniture beautifully restored, where necessary, and everything in perfect taste. Even the home is over a hundred years old, but marks of the beauty of that period remain substantially to this day.

It matters not where we view beauty, it always leaves something impressed upon our consciousness — something indelible and everlasting. In fact, there is a sense of undying beauty that remains with us forever, each new view of it, in any form, increasing the flow of appreciation in our minds. Beauty has an effect upon us that we all too often fail to note, or to realize. It does something vital and endless to us, its influence even radiates, in turn, from there.

There is undoubtedly a spiritual significance to all beauty. That is why so much of it has been created everywhere. Even beauty that is hidden away, has its purpose. Perhaps it's only a "family affair" there, nevertheless it challenges our interest and imagination, wherever it has been placed.

You feel intimately connected with Nature every time you pluck a flower, or express wonder over some formation of the earth, or speculate as you view the stars. We know so little about the purpose of all beauty, but it must have been in the mind of the Creator to have it deeply impressed upon the consciousness of us all, else we would not love it so!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Courage To Go On."

Good Management: The result of the election in the county proves that the people have been satisfied with the Republican method of management of public business. Having given a clean and economical administration of the affairs of the county, the party went before the people for an endorsement of its course, pledging an equally good administration, and if possible better, if continued in power. With an unimpeachable record and a good ticket there was the inspiration of confidence in the ranks of the party.

CLOSE GUARD KEPT ON KING IN CEREMONIES

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—King George VI, in a Parliament-opening speech presenting the views of his labor government, called today for legislation continuing conscription for the British armed forces and for nationalization of inland transport and electric utilities.

The monarch presented his message to Parliament after a traditional ride through London's streets during which he was guarded against any possible attack by Jewish extremists by every policeman Scotland Yard could spare—more than 5,000 all told.

The King's speech marked the opening of the second Parliament since labor took over the reins of government and took place amid pre-war pomp and ceremony of centuries-old tradition—and the reality of the most elaborate and stringent precautions since the 1939 and 1940 bombings attributed to the Irish Republican army.

The royal message, prepared by the labor government, set forth government views on both foreign and domestic affairs.

The King urged negotiation of a peace with Germany under "conditions which will foster true democracy, will guarantee the world against further attempts at world domination and will remove the financial burden which occupation has laid on my people."

Indicating the government's intent work for eradication of international trade barriers, the King spoke of his "earnest hope" for the success of negotiations now under way in London for expansion of world commerce and employment.

Promises Housing He also announced the government's desire to improve living conditions in Britain, promising increased housing and increased food supplies to a nation weary of shortages and rationing.

Also recommended were measures to establish a ministry of defense—combined the three fighting services of air, sea and land—and to make effective the 1944 Chicago convention on International Civil Aviation.

Government spokesmen discounted British press suggestions that a campaign of violence by Jewish underground organizations was in prospect in England but British police officials, nevertheless, were reported to have taken the unusual step of issuing firearms to their plain clothes men, who normally go unarmed.

Winston Churchill, the wartime Prime Minister and now the leader of the opposition, was scheduled to open debate when the House of Commons gets down to work.

Although much of the pre-war splendor of an opening of Parliament was restored today, there still were many reminders of the long struggle against the axis, including the bomb-battered houses of Parliament and even the carriage in which the king rode from Buckingham palace to Westminster.

Instead of the four-ton Royal State landau, the king and Queen Elizabeth used the so-called Irish State coach, dating from 1852, which weighs only two tons and requires only four instead of eight of the famous Windsor gray horses, the supply of which had been neglected during the war.

Warning Received There were other reminders, too. The lords had rationed foods for breakfast and were not required to wear ermine before the king—simply morning dress or uniform.

The precautions to guard King George and Attlee—taken after Scotland Yard received an anonymous threat of assassination against Field Marshal Lord Montgomery "unless British policy in Palestine is immediately changed"—gave unexpected reality to the traditional

Hunting Mystery Baffles Police

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—Police were confronted today with a strange mystery involving a prominent Philadelphia socialite, unauthorized hunters, an unaccounted for cheek wound and a phantom hospital ride.

State Game Warden George W. Freas reported that Elliston P. Morris, 46-year-old descendant of three Philadelphia mayors, was in Abington Memorial hospital with a wound of the left cheek he believed may have been inflicted by hunters.

Freas said Morris received a telephone call yesterday from a neighbor who told him unauthorized hunters were on the Morris property in neighboring Bucks county.

Morris went to investigate, Freas said, an hour later hospital authorities reported Morris had been admitted, but they were unable to say how he had been injured or who had brought him to the hospital.

Morris was too dazed to talk coherently. An x-ray examination disclosed there was no gunshot in the cheek wound but Freas theorized a bullet may have grazed Morris' cheek.

Morris was educated at Yale university and did experimental work for the government in the Tennessee Valley. In 1919 he served as an unpaid volunteer in the reconstruction of war-torn French villages.

MECHANIZED HUNTING Weiden, Ill. (AP)—Farmer Mike Seal didn't have time to get a horse or a hound or a gun so he used his car to go fox hunting. When a fox fed to a state highway from Seal's farm, Seal jumped into his automobile and pursued the animal down the road until the headlight-blinded fox ran smack into another car. Seal recovered the pelt and collected the county bounty.

"search" of the cellars under the Houses of Parliament.

That custom dates from 1605, when Guy Fawkes and others conspired to plant gunpowder there and blow up the king and Parliament. In the three centuries since then the search has been purely ceremonial and traditional.

Despite official scoffing at the seriousness of reported threats there was no relaxation of vigilance and Scotland Yard sent out an "all stations" call during the night for the apprehension of a 30-year-old Jewish woman described as the fiancée of a Palestine underground leader.

She was said to have arrived in Britain about a month ago and the British press variously described her fiancée as a member of Irgun Zvai Leumi and of the so-called Stern gang.

Middle Course IS PRESCRIBED FOR PRESIDENT By JACK BELL Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Republicans stipulated today that President Truman will have to go down the middle of the road in his legislative proposals if he wants their cooperation in the new GOP-controlled Congress.

From Senators William F. Knowland (Calif.) and C. Wayland Brooks (Ill.) came assertions that their fellow Republicans will not accept what Knowland called a "PAC-drafted" law-making program and what Brooks labelled "completely Socialistic proposals."

"We need some of the same unity of purpose that has marked the development of our nonpartisan foreign policy in solving the country's grave domestic problems," Knowland told a reporter.

"We don't want the nation to swing either too far to the left or too far to the right. We want to keep it on an even keel. And we don't want any PAC-drafted legislative program shoved at us as it has been in the past," Knowland said.

"People Have Spoken" Brooks remarked "when Mr. Truman first became President, he asked for cooperation from the Congress. Then he proceeded to present and tried to force through completely Socialistic proposals. The people have spoken and they have said they don't want that kind of program."

"People Have Spoken" Brooks remarked "when Mr. Truman first became President, he asked for cooperation from the Congress. Then he proceeded to present and tried to force through completely Socialistic proposals. The people have spoken and they have said they don't want that kind of program."

Senator Wayne Morse (R-Ore.), said he interpreted the election results as indicating that the American people "want their officeholders to avoid the extremes of both reactionary and leftist points of view and mark out a constructive middle of the road course of action which will bring a high degree of stability to the nation."

Without dissent, Republican leaders pledged their efforts toward continuing present foreign policies unchanged. But Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) said the test of full Republican cooperation with the President on this score will come when treaties are placed before the Senate.

Many Democrats thought Mr. Truman's statement indicated he is turning away from the course "a little left of center" he previously had marked out for himself and would mollify some of the elements in his own party, as well as the Republicans, with fewer New Deal type programs.

Save ALL AROUND with these tractor tires

ON REAR WHEELS Use B.F. Goodrich Hi-Cleat tractor tires... the only tires that have cleats in pairs—one long, one short. Double bars for double bite and extra grip. Open center, self-cleaning tread design. No mud-catching pockets to cause slippage. Extra high shoulders prevent sideslip. Tough, long-wearing rubber. Positive traction.

ON FRONT WHEELS B.F. Goodrich front wheel tractor tires wear long, roll smoothly. Self-cleaning tread helps keep work moving speedily. Husky, high shoulders and tough rubber.

ON IMPLEMENTS Long-wearing B.F. Goodrich Tires help you move faster from job to job, work in soil where steel wheels would bog down. And a B.F. Goodrich planned changeover from steel wheels to rubber tires means extra savings—often one set of tires and rims may be used on more than one implement.

Biddle Drops Suit For Baby's Custody

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—A suit involving custody of eight-month-old Jonathan Biddle has been dropped by his father, Alexander W. Biddle, 27-year-old socially prominent Philadelphian.

Joseph Sharfstein, counsel for Biddle, said the child has been returned to Biddle's home in suburban Havertown township and that his client dropped the suit in which he had sought to obtain custody from his wife's parents.

He had contended that Jonathan was "unlawfully removed" from a hospital last May by the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner O. Simms.

At that time, Mrs. Biddle told reporters she herself removed the child from the hospital, stating there was an inadequate number of servants at the Biddle home.

REGULATION Browning, Mont. (AP)—There was no material shortage today when Blackfoot Indians started tailoring 100 uniforms for the Montana State university band.

Two hundred deer skins, donated by Montana hunters, were being fashioned into tribal costumes by the Indian artisans.

While they worked on the tailoring job, the Blackfeet loaned the band their own beaded and feather bedecked costumes.

Carroll Reece gave an indication of Republican thinking on this score when he asserted, in commenting on the President's true statement, that the "mandate" of Tuesday's election "is binding not only upon those candidates elected to the Senate and House on November 5, but also upon all other officials of the federal government."

UNIONS READY TO FIGHT FOR CLOSED SHOP

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 12 (P) — The closed shop—one of the sorest of all union problems—is headed for a showdown in Congress and the U. S. Supreme court.

Senator Joseph Ball, Minnesota Republican, says he will try to get the new, Republican-controlled Congress to pass a law outlawing the closed shop.

And the voters of five states — Florida, Arkansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Arizona — have now approved amendments to their state constitutions doing just that.

If Congress passes such a law the unions certainly will fight it through the courts, going up to the U. S. Supreme court, if necessary.

The unions already have started their fight against the state amendments and will go up to the Supreme court if they have to.

A closed shop is one in which every employee must be a member of the union which has a contract with the employer there. If he isn't, he can't work there.

Closed shops are not new in this country. They date back at least to 1790 when unions of carpenters and tailors bargained with their employers not only for higher wages but for closed shops, too.

Congress itself—in the National Labor Relations act (The Wagner Act) which it passed in 1935—said an employer could make a closed shop agreement with a union.

A closed shop contract, of course, is not the only kind which unions make with employers. But they argue for it on these grounds, among others:

It prevents "free riders." That is, it prevents people—who work in a place where there's a union contract—from enjoying all the benefits a union wins without paying dues or sharing other union obligations.

Florida Case Appealed
The AFL and CIO appealed to the Supreme court—in the first round of the Florida case—one these grounds:

1. That Florida law outlawing the closed shop was in conflict with the National Labor Relations act which they claimed permitted a closed shop.

(The theory here was that when a state law conflicts with a federal law, the federal law is supreme.)

2. That the Florida law violated the U. S. constitution, because, they said, it interferes with freedom of contract (Article I); it interferes with freedom of speech (First Amendment); and it interferes with citizen's privileges and property rights (Fourteenth Amendment).

It struck him that of the two Joseph was the least afraid. But in

"One peep out of you, Joseph, and I'll fling you down on top of Siegmund when he comes." Joseph put a finger to his lips, the inference stunned Niel so that all he could do was lean against the wall and stare at him.

"Kitty . . . Kitty!" called Joseph, then he beckoned Niel to come away from the stairs but Niel shook his head. "Acht! you must trust me!"

It was the soft, mild look in his eyes that compelled Niel to move. He couldn't believe Joseph intended to help him, but then, he didn't believe in miracles. Noiselessly, warily he came round the stairs, now and then Joseph called the cat for Siegmund's benefit. "I can get you away," he whispered, "but go back to your room till tonight."

Niel shook his head. "I'm getting out now, so don't try to stop me."

"A little more time will secure everything."

"Yes . . . for the General."

Automobile Taken As He Serves Writ

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12 (P)—Constable J. B. Bolden got his man last night but lost his car.

He was serving a warrant on Webster avenue when his car, parked nearby, disappeared. A few blocks away, he found it, smashed against the side of a building, the front end caved in. Witnesses said a man got out and limped away.

Constable Bolden is now ready to serve another warrant. He says it will be a pleasure.

BOTH PARTIES HAVE WORRIES

Washington, Nov. 12 (P)—Leadership worries beset House Republicans and Democrats alike today.

With two candidates already in the field and a third in the offing, GOP leaders arriving early for a steering committee meeting Thursday began scouting around for compromise possibilities in the fight for the coveted post of Republican floor leader.

Reps. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Thomas Jenkins of Ohio formally tossed their hats into the ring for the assignment yesterday. Friends of Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio said they expect his formal announcement momentarily.

Halleck's announcement followed a meeting of party heads, including Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts. Martin is unopposed in his party for election as speaker of the House, and the elevation will leave vacant his present position as Republican floor leader. Unless all candidates except one withdraw, a party caucus will make the selection, probably late next month. His choice will be submitted to the House proper for formal ratification by the Republican majority.

The possibility of a fight over the Democratic, or minority, leadership developed when it was learned that a group of Southerners are seeking to persuade Rep. Eugene E. Cox of Georgia to seek the post.

Normally, Sam Rayburn, of Texas, now-speaker in the Democratic-controlled House, would step down into the minority leadership. But Rayburn has announced a desire to be freed of the chore and let the toga fall upon the shoulders of Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, now Democratic floor leader.

General Motors Prices Jump $100

Detroit, Nov. 12 (P)—The price tag on General Motors passenger cars and trucks was higher by $100 today while Ford and Chrysler, other members of the automotive industry's "Big Three," marked time on possible action following the removal of OPA controls.

C. E. Wilson, G.M. president, announced the increases yesterday and said they would be effective immediately. He said the corporation had an application for such an increase on file with the OPA "for several months" and pointed out that the boost placed G.M. prices "in reasonable relationship" to costs of production.

Wilson also announced: "Adjustments in the prices of certain household appliances will be announced later by the Frigidaire and Delco appliance divisions; no general increases on automotive parts will be made at this time (OPA recently authorized increases up to 15 per cent on automotive parts); no general increase is contemplated on Diesel-electric locomotives or other Diesel engines."

MEMORIES
Dallas, Texas, (P)—Mayor Woodall Rodgers, head of a subscription campaign for funds to ratify the First Presbyterian church, received a check for $5 and letter from Mr. and Mrs. Murray W. Stratton, who had read of the campaign in a Newark, N. J., paper.

The Strattons wrote: "We asked ourselves, 'would we want to see rats in your beautiful church?' We should say not. 'You see, we were married there.'"

EGGS, A LA HIGHWAY
Los Angeles, (P) — Scrambled eggs, wholesale, resulted here when a truck tipped its load of 44,640 eggs onto the highway while swerving to avoid an automobile. The messy omelet made driving hazardous over the area.

SENSATION IN JAP WAR TRIAL

Tokyo, Nov. 12 (P)—Sensational statements that Japan rehearsed its Pearl Harbor attack five months in advance and that former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew believes three of the 27 top Japanese defendants are innocent were made to the International War Crimes Court today.

An affidavit from Grew, who was interned at the start of the war, said the three "in my opinion were wholly opposed to war and exerted their efforts to avoid war." It startled the courtroom but Sir William Webb, Tribunal president, ruled that it could not be introduced by the defense until it opens its case, probably in December.

Defense Attorney David F. Smith, New York told the court "this seems to eliminate three defendants from this case." They are Kichiro Hiranuma, former prime minister, and Kiko Hirota and Mamoru Shigemitsu, former foreign ministers.

Meanwhile, testimony, based on a recorded prison-cell interrogation of Admiral Osami Nagano, a defendant, last March 21, pictured Emperor Hirohito as figuratively chewing his fingernails in anguish over the prospects of waging a war which might be lost while militarists at the same time held rehearsals for the sneak attack.

Nagano said the plan was rehearsed at Kagoshima bay in July, 1941, with torpedo and dive bombers using aerial torpedoes specially designed for the shallow Pearl Harbor waters.

Gettysburg Lodge Of Moose Observes 20th Anniversary Of Founding Today

Fraternal Organization With Membership Of 1300 One Of Largest In County

Gettysburg's lodge of Moose has won the reputation of the "building lodge" among Moose in this section of the country.

Founded on November 12, 1926, at an organization meeting held in St. Francis Xavier hall with 76 members present, the group has had three meeting places in the last 20 years and has enlarged its space from one room to one of the largest lodge buildings in the community. At the same time its membership has grown to more than 1,300.

District Supervisor R. S. Tucker gave the oath to the 76 present for the meeting instituting the local organization 20 years ago. Twenty-four of the members who took the oath at that time have maintained their membership throughout the two decades.

In New Quarters

For a time after its organization the lodge met in a room in the First National Bank building and then moved to a room in the rear of the present York street home of the order.

In the spring of 1927 the lodge moved to the third floor of the Thompson building on Carlisle street where it remained until January, 1931, when it purchased its present building on York street.

First appointive officers to serve the local Moose were: Past Governor, L. U. Collins; Governor, J. U. Appler; Junior Governor, Edward Rinehart; Prelate, Wilbur J. Stallsmith; Secretary, Lawrence E. Oyler; Treasurer, Arthur E. Roth; Sergeant-at-Arms, John Cordi; Inside Guard, E. G. Strickhouser; Outside Guard, James A. Aumen; Trustees, F. A. Smith, Clarence E. Wolfe, Charles J. Myers, and Physician, Dr. M. S. Weaver.

11 Past Governors

Eleven Past Governors of the lodge are still members of the organization. They include L. U. Collins; Allen Harman, John C. Goodermuth, Charles E. Evans, C. Eugene Wolfe, Francis X. Yingling, Edgar J. Beamer, Grayson W. Adlesberger, Jacob A. Small,

Dallas Blubaugh and Paul E. Miller.

Content for the moment with their lodge building, the members from 1931 to 1941 made only slight changes in the interior, but since that time the building has been altered considerably.

August 9 to 14, 1942, the Moose celebrated the complete renovation of their new home and then decided that more space was needed.

At the time of the celebration the following improvements had been made to the three-story property:

A storeroom and grill 50 by 24 feet had been installed on the first floor and fluorescent lighting was placed in the grill. All new furniture was installed and the first floor, as all other floors, was completely redecorated. A storeroom, now the secretary's office, was placed in the front of the building. On the second floor a 55 by 24 foot dining room was built. To the rear of the dining room was a kitchen and to its front a lounge. The walls of the dining room were painted peach color and the ceiling was painted gray. The third floor was turned into a meeting room. On both the second and third floors indirect lighting was installed.

Further Expansion

The basement was enlarged and a cold storage room for foods was installed. To make room for the improvements the Moose built a two-story annex to the rear of the original building.

The front of the building was improved by the addition of a two-story structural glass front.

While the 365 members of 1942 had thought the building would serve their needs for several years to come, at least, the building program they found, was just starting.

The huge dining room on the second floor soon proved to be far too small for the rapidly expanding membership of the organization.

Since 1942 the lodge has constructed a ballroom three times the size of the second floor room and has added to that a kitchen almost four times the size of the original kitchen on the second floor. Bowling alleys, showers and similar installations have been built in a building adjoining the present home.

The membership has increased from the 365 in 1942 to over 1,300 at the present

Women Of The Moose Will Observe 4th Anniversary Of Founding This Evening

Established four years ago, the Gettysburg chapter of Women of the Moose has grown to nearly 200 members.

The institution of the chapter took place November 15, 1942, with Mrs. Eva Boose, Senior Regent of the Hanover chapter, assisted by other officers of that unit in charge. Mrs. Freida Clinger, Junior Graduate Grand Regent, from Lewistown, was the principal speaker. Sixty-eight members were enrolled at the first meeting.

The officers installed at that time included: Senior Regent, Mrs. Virginia Lauver; Junior Regent, Mrs. Enola Myers; Graduate Regent, Mrs. Fern Myers; Chaplain, Mrs. Ruth Utz; Recorder, Mrs. Marie McGlaughlin; Treasurer, Mrs.

time, and keeps on growing.

Despite the tremendous increase in membership and the almost constant expansion since 1941, the lodge is still unsatisfied with its home, and is planning additional changes and additions for the future.

Carrie Felix; Argus, Mrs. Eleanor Fox; Sentinel, Mrs. Ida Dunkinson; Guide, Miss Sara Miller; Assistant Guide, Mrs. Emma Keefer; Pianist, Mrs. Edward Culver.

The first committee chairmen included: publicity, Mrs. Mary Evans; social service, Mrs. Anna Goodermuth; homemaking, Mrs. Nellie McGlaughlin; child care, Mrs. Ada Smith; library, Mrs. Mary M. Miller; membership, Mrs. Nellie Lawther; Mooseheart, Mrs. Emma Pittman; hospital guild, Mrs. Eva Rentzel, and war relief, Mrs. Rose Anzengruber.

War Activities

Since that time the organization has found itself constantly busy with a number of activities both in the Women of the Moose and in the community.

During the war the women sold thousands of dollars worth of war bonds and stamps. They operated a booth at the Murphy store and had a booth in constant operation at the Moose home.

In addition they assisted women from other organizations in maintaining the war bond booths in the community.

Aiding in the government drive to secure nurses, the group also sponsored a cadet nurse training movement in the community, with the first nurse so sponsored, Mary Stitt, completing her training recently.

Among the Moose activities were the sending of boxes of gifts to Moosehaven and Mooseheart at Christmas and Easter and at different times during the year. They sent a box of linen to Mooseheart to help the child city. Members continued their work in the Women of the Moose, moving through various degrees.

Academy of Friendship

The Academy of Friendship was established by the local chapter with five members now belonging to the Academy. The first two to receive the degree were Mrs. Anna Sunbury and Mrs. Virginia Lauver. Given only to those who do outstanding work, the degree was given the two local women at Pittsburgh two years ago. Three others, Mrs. Ruth Lee, Mrs. Mary Miller and Mrs. Carrie Felix received the degree this year at Hagerstown.

Mrs. Lauver has also been named to the college of regents, another high Women of the Moose branch open only to regents or past regents particularly noted for their work.

Among the officers and escorts and committee chairmen of the local chapter today are: Junior Graduate Regent, Mrs. Thelma Yingling; Senior Regent, Mrs. Margaret Bender; Junior Regent, Mrs. Rose Anzengruber; Chaplain, Mrs. Mary M. Miller; Recorder, Mrs. Laura Swope; Treasurer, Mrs. Bessie Smith; Argus, Mrs. Bernadine Knox; Sentinel, Mrs. Fern Myers; Pianist, Mrs. Mildred Adlesberger; Guide, Miss Martha Strausbaugh; Assistant Guide, Mrs. Margaret Culp; chairmen, College of Regents, Mrs. Virginia Lauver; Academy of Friendship, Mrs. Ruth Lee; Membership, Josephine Stites; Publicity, Mrs. Ruth Jacobs; War Relief, Mrs. Ruth Boyer; Mooseheart, Mrs. Dorothy Kessel; Moosehaven, Mrs. Kathleen Baltozer; Library, Mary Bowling; Mooseheart alumnae, Mrs. Margaret Riggeal; Social Service, Mrs. Annie Goodermuth; Home-

OUR 20th Anniversary

We are proud to announce that we are observing our 20th anniversary as an affiliated lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, one of the largest fraternal organizations in the world.

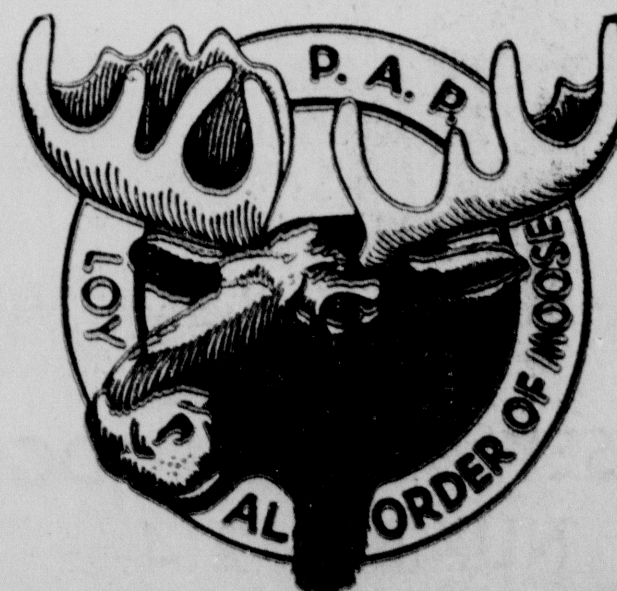

During our twenty years as a Gettysburg Lodge we have been an integral part of this community (Gettysburg and the County). We have contributed to all worthwhile projects. We have grown in membership and fraternal strength throughout the years and we have reflected the spirit of fraternal fellowship, good citizenry and American patriotism.

It is with pardonable pride that we happily observe this milestone in our growth and we pledge continued service to the town and county throughout the years to come.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

LODGE NUMBER 1526

GETTYSBURG, PA.

Men And Women Of Moose Will Mark Anniversaries Of Lodge, Chapter Tonight

The Gettysburg Lodge of Moose and the local chapter of the Women of the Moose will join this evening in beginning a two day celebration of the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Moose and the fourth anniversary of the establishment of the Women of the Moose here.

The program will begin with a special meeting at 3 o'clock tonight when the Moose will initiate an anniversary class of new members. The degree staff of the York Moose lodge will do the initiatory work. After the initiation, members of the lodge and members of the Women of the Moose will meet together for a program that will include speaking by guests of both the lodge and the chapter.

Two Speakers
Principal Moose speaker of the evening will be John C. Meikle, Pilgrim Recorder of the Moose, Washington, D. C. Meikle, who is also secretary of the board of governors of Mooseheart, the child city of the Moose, is a graduate of that establishment.

Principal speaker representing the Women of the Moose will be Mrs. Frieda Clinger, Lewistown, who as Junior graduate grand regent four years ago instituted the local chapter of the Women of the Moose.

Governor Merle Baumgardner will outline the history of the local lodge in a short talk during the evening's program.

Other features of this evening's program will be a skit by the members of the Women of the Moose after which a motion picture, "The Child City," will be shown. The picture relates details of the life at Mooseheart, the home established by the Moose for orphans of members.

Banquet Wednesday
Wednesday evening the members and their ladies will gather for a roast beef banquet starting at 5:30 o'clock. The dinner will continue until 9 o'clock when a dance will be held. "Clappy" Dell and his orchestra from Hanover will provide the music. Moose officials have announced.

Most of the work in arranging for the program was performed by Secretary Charles L. Lawver. Governor Merle Baumgardner announced today, with members of standing committees aiding in the work of arranging for the affair.

Members of the committees include membership, Jacob Myers, James McGlaughlin and Charles Evans; entertainment, Merle Baumgardner, Charles Utz and Allen making. Mrs. Mildred Warren; Child Care, Mrs. Mary Steinhour; Ritual, Mrs. Ruth Tate, and Hospital Guild, Mrs. Sara Baltzley.

Harman; sports, Paul Miller, Michael Tate and Archie Maust; Ritual, L. U. Collins, John C. Goodermuth and Edgar J. Beamer; veterans affairs, Ralph Johnson, Dallas Blubaugh and Daniel Miller and publicity, G. H. Roth, Charles Lawver and Elmer L. Warren.

Had Four Regents

Four regents have served the Women of the Moose in addition to the present regent. They include Mrs. Virginia Lauver, first regent; Mrs. Enola Evans, second regent; Mrs. Fern Myers, the third head officer of the club and Mrs. Thelma Yingling.

Tonight when the women join the men of the Moose in the joint anniversary celebration of the birthdays of the lodge and chapter the women will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock in the second floor meeting room while the men hold a similar meeting in the ballroom on the first floor.

At the separate meetings both the men and women will initiate a class of candidates. The women's group will conduct a candlelight initiation program with two visiting officials, Mrs. Freida Klinger, Lewistown, Grand Secretary of the College of Regents and Mrs. Jane Hare, York, Associate Regent of the College of Regents, scheduled to be present.

The herd of Holstein cows which provides a quart of milk a day for every child in Mooseheart, Ill., an orphan's home and school operated by the Loyal Order of Moose, is one of the finest in the world.

RECORD FAMILY AT CHILD CITY . . . Here is the all-time record family of children in the history of Mooseheart, Ill., the "Child City," 35 miles from Chicago. Mooseheart is operated by the Loyal Order of Moose. With Mrs. Esther Wuchte, 33, Joliet, Ill., are left to right: Rose, 5; Patricia, 6; Kenneth, 7; Mary, 14; Esther, 2; Delores, 13; Robert, 4 (and look at those eyes!); James, 11; Albert, 9; and Shirley, 10. The baby, Richard Eugene, was born at Mooseheart Hospital. The father, Albert, Sr., a member of The Moose, died a few months ago, and The Loyal Order of Moose immediately assumed care of the family.

Their Daddy Gave $10 to Mooseheart; They'll Get $100,000 Worth of Care

THIS is the kind of story that warms the heart of every member of the Loyal Order of Moose—and anyone who ever heard of The Moose.

This is a modern version of Bread Upon the Waters.

This is the story of a man who believed in the aims, ideals and the program of the Loyal Order of Moose; a man who joined the Moose and as a member contributed in five years of dues the sum of $10 to Mooseheart, famed Child City of the Order. He died, but his widow and 11 children will reap ten-thousand fold on his investment.

He was Albert Wuchte, a painting contractor, who joined Joliet, Ill., Lodge No. 300 about five years ago. He averaged about $250 a month earnings from his painting. A few months ago, he died, leaving a 33-year-old wife and 10 children, the oldest 14 years. He left no property.

Of the nominal dues that Mr. Wuchte had paid, $2 each year went to Mooseheart, where sons and daughters of deceased members are given a home, the best of care and a high school education unsurpassed anywhere.

By NIVER W. BEAMAN
Editor of Moose Magazine

THE Wuchte family was eligible for Mooseheart and it was welcomed, the mother included. For his $10 investment in Mooseheart, Mr. Wuchte's family is assured of care and education that will cost, for them alone, more than $100,000.

In Mooseheart Hospital, Mrs. Wuchte on Thursday, Aug. 8, 1946, gave birth to her 11th child, a healthy, handsome boy.

The photo above shows the entire family at Mooseheart a few days after the new arrival. Did you ever see a finer group of youngsters or a more charming mother? Did you ever see happier people? Happy because they know they have security and the love and friendship of 750,000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose, who will never let them down.

Every Moose knows the story of Mooseheart. But for those who are not members of this great international fraternity, we'll sketch what lies ahead for the Wuchte family. All of the children will be educated through high school—receiving the best in housing, medical care, dental care and education. The baby will be cared for in the Mooseheart Hospital until two years old, will live in the child village from age 3 to 6. The children of grammar and high school age will live with other children of their own age, under the care of house mothers.

MRS. WUCHTE herself may become a house mother. At least, she will be provided employment at Mooseheart in accord with her wishes and her ability or special training. She will be paid the same as any other Mooseheart employee, and not one penny will be deducted from her wages because her children are residents. The family will have lots and lots of opportunity to be together. When not in school, the children have 1,200 beautiful acres of grass-sown, tree-shaded acres to romp over. Their home, Mooseheart, has the best health record in the whole United States. Although nearly 1,000 children live at Mooseheart, the Child City did not have a single death for 12 years, a record unequalled by any community its size in the United States.

In addition to their high school education, the children will have 16 trades to choose from in selecting their life's vocation.

Do you wonder the Wuchte family smiles? Their daddy was a smart man. He was a Moose.

Assets of the Loyal Order of Moose total $11,452,457, including Mooseheart, Ill., a home and school for orphans and Moosehaven, Fla., a home for old folks.

A War Memorial Shrine honoring the members of the Loyal Order of Moose who served in the recent world war is under construction at Mooseheart, Ill.

CROWDS OF VISITORS—More than 150,000 visitors annually come to Mooseheart, Ill. Photo taken on an average Saturday or Sunday afternoon, in the summertime, before the rotunda of the Clock Tower—the civic center of the child city.

Mooseheart, Ill., the 1,200-acre City of Happy Childhood operated by The Loyal Order of Moose to educate and care for children of deceased members, is non-sectarian. A child worships in his or her own faith, be it Protestant, Catholic or Hebrew.

MOOSEHAVEN IN FLORIDA HOUSES DEPENDENT AGED

From MOOSEHAVEN

Laugh and grow fat is an age-old axiom the truth of which is still in doubt through lack of specific proof. But of the following statement there is no doubt: Worry shortens life.

The Loyal Order of Moose can, at least, supply the most convincing proof that freedom from worry lengthens life. The proof may be found in the records of Moosehaven, the home for the dependent aged of the Order, established in 1922, on the St. John's river near Jacksonville, in sunny Florida.

It can well be understood that before a man and his wife are admitted to any institution for dependent aged, they already have had many reasons for worry. The first and major reason is that they have lost out in the economic struggle of life. As for the man, he lacks employment, and, in the sixties, has passed the age when he can reasonably hope for employment. At this point, hope disappears.

But all hope is not lost to an aging couple if the husband has been able to maintain his good standing in the Loyal Order of Moose. In the darkest hour he applies for admittance to Moosehaven for himself and his wife. In due time, if all requirements are met, admittance is granted.

Home For Life

Some may assume that it must have been a great day in the life of these dependent old folks when they arrived at Moosehaven. But put yourself in their place. Married folks do not easily sever all connections with old friends or the community in which they have perhaps lived the greater part of their lives. The breaking of old ties is not a happy experience under any condition. Then there is always the natural fear which comes to every couple so placed that they might not fit in with the new associations and the new conditions of living in the new place.

But fear soon disappears after a couple begin the life of Moosehaven residents. The experiences that caused them most to fear are utterly wiped out of their lives. Soon they begin to appreciate the fact that for the rest of their lives they will have a decent home to themselves. They will have friends, clothing, nourishing food, medical care, and, more important still, assured and remunerative employment.

Net results—and this is taken from the records: The life span of the average citizen of Moosehaven from sixty-five—the age required for admittance—is extended six years and eight months, than what it otherwise would have been. Need further proof be submitted that freedom from worry lengthens life?

The Loyal Order of Moose was founded in 1888. Its present director general, James J. Avis, former U. S. Secretary of Labor and ex-U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania, was the 247th member when he joined in 1906. Today The Moose has 750,000 members.

TYPICAL RESIDENTIAL STREET—The homes in which the children live at the Moose child city of Mooseheart, Ill., are substantial, modern and attractive. Each building is surrounded by well-kept lawns, and set far apart from its neighbor, thus permitting an abundance of sunlight and fresh air.

Mooseheart Provides Home And School For Children Of All Deceased Members

Mooseheart, Illinois, one of the most unique communities in the United States and one of the outstanding fraternal projects of America is sponsored and maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose. This unusual community occupying 1,200 acres of fertile Illinois prairie is a city unto itself located 35 miles west of Chicago. It is known all over the world as the Child City. It has its own fire department, hospital, bank, postoffice, stores, farm and stadium.

Speaking at the dedication exercises Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, voiced the opinion that the idea of Mooseheart was but a beautiful dream which would soon fade away. The thirty-two years' service of Mooseheart and its present physical plant bear out Marshall's opinion that Mooseheart was a beautiful dream—but it was a dream which became fully realized rather than faded away.

Mooseheart was founded upon the educational concept expressed by its founder, the Hon. James J. Davis, former U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania: "Every child is entitled to at least a high school education and instruction in a trade." It has lived to see this concept accepted by the educative world as axiomatic.

Home For Children

Mooseheart's purpose is to provide a home and school for the dependent children of deceased members of the Order and its availability was originally restricted to children of this category. Since its founding, however, Mooseheart service has been broadened so that it is now available to children of members of the Moose whose wives become deceased and also to dependent fatherless children having no Moose affiliation, when sponsored at Mooseheart receives vocational training, that he or she may be qualified to earn a livelihood from the day of graduation. Instruction is provided in twenty-five practical and useful trades. Among the more modern vocations taught are an engineering course in air-conditioning for boys and dress designing courses for the girls. The educational concept of Mooseheart is to take full account of the needs and capacities of the individual child and fit the instruction to that individual, to the end that he may best adjust himself to a complex, changing social and physical environment.

Receive Medical Care

From the time they are tiny tots in the "Baby Village" until their graduation from high school, Mooseheart youngsters receive the advantage of the finest medical care, complete to a modern, fully equipped hospital. Since its founding, Mooseheart has uninterruptedly maintained the highest health record of any institution of its kind. The mortality rate of the young citizens of the Child City has always been the lowest.

The Mooseheart Laboratory of Child Research, founded in 1930, is world famed for its contributions to child welfare. At the Laboratory, each Mooseheart child is given scientific tests to discover individual aptitudes and talents, which aid not only in planning the child's life, but his future as well. The Laboratory has contributed not only to Mooseheart's successful development of its children, but also to the entire world through its progress in the field of child psychology.

5,000 Trained

Since its founding, nearly 5,000 children have attended Mooseheart, and their record of achievement jointly by a Moose Lodge and another reputable organization.

Whenever possible, the mother is admitted to Mooseheart along with her children. There is no uniform, for the children are permitted free expression of their individual personalities in the selection of clothing. Living conditions of the children at Mooseheart are like those in a fine American home. Small groups live in modern, home-like surroundings, not in dormitories. Two or more adults in each residence act as counselors and homemakers.

Balanced Schedule

In the very normal life of the children of Mooseheart, sports, recreation, and religious training are combined with academic and vocational training to produce a well-balanced schedule. Mooseheart's football, basketball and baseball teams have won acclaim for their prowess as well as their fine sportsmanship. Its resident chaplains, both Catholic and Protestant, minister to the religious requirements of the children, each in the faith which prevailed in their former homes. Scholastics at Mooseheart are conducted along the same principles as the normal city school system. A Mooseheart high school diploma entitles the holder to enter any college or university without an examination. Its high school has one of the highest ratings. Every child after going out into the world "on their own," bespeaks the excellent training they received. Another tribute to the character of the educational program of Mooseheart has been the complete lack of juvenile delinquency at the Child City. More than 600 Mooseheart graduates gave ample testimony to the effectiveness of their lessons in patriotism by answering the call of their beloved country during the recent war.

Today Mooseheart, representing an investment of more than 28 million dollars, is a city of nearly 125 fireproof buildings of modern concrete, including a central heating and power plant, a high school building, several large industrial trade shops, many fine attractive residences, a stadium, gymnasium, hospital and a modern farm plant.

Many Visitors

To the more than 150,000 visitors annually, a walk through the winding streets of Mooseheart, lined on either side with fine trees of every variety, is indeed inspiring. The houses radiate cheerfulness, with laughing children darting in and out, at play in the many playgrounds, or at their chores. A spirit of cooperation and helpfulness characterizes Mooseheart, with each one knowing his niche in the scheme of things and filling it cheerfully to the best of his ability. The mem-

Membership in the organization, a survey of the list of over 1,300 names disclosed today, extends from Florida to New York and from Philadelphia to California. Every section of Adams county and a number of sections in Maryland and York county are also represented among the membership.

Nearly all the members who during the past 20 years have moved from Gettysburg to other parts of the country, have maintained their membership in the Gettysburg lodge, the records show.

GOVERNOR OF MOOSE PLEADS FOR SERVICE

By MERLE BAUMGARDNER

Governor, Gettysburg Moose Lodge

Today, when the Gettysburg Lodge of Moose celebrates its 20th anniversary, both the officers and members will be celebrating two decades of extremely rapid growth.

The lodge now numbers more than 1300 members. Its auxiliary, Women of the Moose, which today celebrates its fourth anniversary, totals 200 members.

The rapid growth which has characterized not only our lodge, but all other similar organizations in Gettysburg, is proof that the ideals of fraternity and the spirit of cooperation of the lodge are proving their value to the community.

Extends Greetings

One of the younger organizations in the community, the Moose today, on the occasion of its birthday, extends to all of its brother lodges friendly greetings with the hope that we and they may continue to serve the community faithfully for many years to come.

This tremendous growth on the part of the Moose and on the growth of the other organizations has put a duty upon the members and officers that was not present to such a great extent when the lodges were small and confined to but a few members.

As fraternal organizations drawing their strength from the community, the Moose and the other organizations need to turn their thoughts to community enterprises, to join in working for the good of our town and county.

We have done so on many occasions in the past.

For the future the Moose stand pledged to even greater participation in civic affairs for the betterment of our county and town.

We know that our brother organizations will join us in that pledge.

Moosehaven, a home for old folks, is maintained at Orange Park, Fla., near Jacksonville, by The Loyal Order of Moose, one of America's largest fraternal organizations. Aged couples live together in cottages, their every want supplied by The Moose.

Lodges of the Loyal Order of Moose bought more than $17,000,000 in War Bonds in the last five years. And are holding them!

Many of the 750,000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose belong to other fraternal organizations such as Elks, Eagles, Woodmen, Masons, Knights of Columbus and others. For instance, Malcolm R. Giles, of Mooseheart, Ill., Supreme Secretary of The Moose, has been a member of the Moose for 32 years and of the Elks for 30.

The P.A.P. linked with the Loyal Order of Moose, a fraternal order of 750,000 members, stands for: Purity, Aid, Progress. These are keynotes of the creed of The Moose who provide for orphans at Mooseheart, Ill., and for old folks at Moosehaven, Fla.

Many U. S. Representatives, Senators and Governors of the 48 states—and many Canadian government leaders—are members of the Loyal Order of Moose, a fraternal organization of 750,000 members. At its recent 58th annual convention in Chicago, The Moose held a memorial service to one of its illustrious dead—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mooseheart, Ill., a city that is both home and school for children of deceased members of the Loyal Order of Moose, is 33 years old. It is so beautiful that it is often mistaken by strangers for a college campus.
